Newsletter

April 2016

Proudly supporting the Colorado Springs
Philharmonic.

From the President:

Happy spring, everyone!

If you are like me, you are so looking forward to the prospect of warmer weather, flowers in bloom and outdoor activities. With spring comes new energy, fresh ideas and quite often a new outlook on life. I invite you to share some of that new found energy and creativity with the Guild and help us to be even more supportive to the Philharmonic and Youth Symphony in the coming months. Financial support is also of the utmost importance—we are most grateful for that and certainly understand if that is all you are able or available to contribute.

We have had a busy year so far with three successful fundraisers and a return to regular monthly gatherings. Thanks to our Committee Chair, Linda Johnson, the monthly meetings have been held in a variety of interesting venues with captivating performances and delectable refreshments. We would love to see more of you at the meetings and always encourage you to bring guests so that we can grow our membership and our commitment to the organizations that we support. There are two meetings left this season. More information on those and other events can be found on page 2 and page 7.

We are currently planning a Mother's Day Brunch at the Pinery and are even beginning to plan for the Bavarian Dinner to be held again during the holidays.

This is also the time of year when we begin to recruit new members for the Board of Directors. The slate will be presented at the April membership meeting and voting will take place at the May meeting. If you have the desire to serve in a board capacity or just want to learn more about what that would involve, please contact Pamela Street or Mary Martin.

The 2016-17 Philharmonic season ticket campaign is well under way. If you have not yet renewed your season tickets—now is the time! If you have not had season tickets in the previous 2 seasons, you can purchase them at a 50% discount for this next season. It's an amazing deal!

I hope to see you all at upcoming meetings, events and concerts! Have a lovely spring!

Most sincerely,

Roslyn Block, President

Colorado Springs Philharmonic Guild.

COLORADO SPRINGS PHILHARMONIC GUILD
PRESENTS THE WINNERS OF THE SOLO COMPETITION
HELD IN JANUARY 2016

1st Place-Nicolo Betoni has been playing percussion since 4th grade and piano since Kindergarten. Currently he also teaches a few beginner and intermediate students piano weekly. He is the principal percussionist in the Colorado Springs Youth Symphony as well as in his school band. "Without music, my life would be lost! Music gives my life so much direction and I am so thankful for all of the opportunities with which it has provided me. I am a Senior at Cheyenne Mountain High School and am looking into both the medical and musical fields for college."

2nd Place-Rebecca Park, age 16, has been studying the flute for five years. She has played in auditioned ensembles; including the Colorado All-State Orchestra, CU Boulder Honor Band, Lamont Summer Academy's ensembles, the Stanford Youth Orchestra. She has won first place in the Colorado Flute Association Competition, CSMTA All Instruments Competition, MTNA State and Division competitions, was a national finalist in the MTNA competition, and received honorable mention in the National Young Arts Foundation Competition. She has performed at Carnegie Hall after winning the American Protege competition in 2015 and will be performing again May 2016. Rebecca has also been invited to play a concerto with the Metropolitan State University this March.

3rd Place-Jory Lane age 15 has played the violin since he was two and has since picked up the mandolin, guitar, cello, bass and ukulele. He is currently in his eighth season with the Colorado Springs Youth Symphony, placed second in the organization-wide solo competition and currently is the assistant concertmaster. In June 2014, his youth symphony group toured Japan and will be going to Germany and the Czech Republic in June 2016. He has released his first album titled J.S.N.L., a mixture of traditional bluegrass tunes and originals. on a physics problem his engineer dad cooked up.

4th Place Hannah Tassler is a junior at Air Academy High School, and participates as a featured soloist and section leader in their award winning marching band. Last summer, Hannah was the featured soloist at the Lutheran Summer Music Festival in Iowa. In 2014,

Sir James and Lady Jeanne Galway presented Hannah with the Rising Star Award at the Galway US Flute Festival. Hannah placed as a finalist in US Navy Band Concerto Competition, the Enkor International Competition for Woodwinds, and the Boulder Philharmonic Young Artists Concerto Competition. She is in her 6th year of flute studies and has also studied piano, classical guitar, and tenor saxophone; she currently studies with Paul Nagem of the Colorado Springs Philharmonic.

TERRIFIC TRAJECTORY!

By Mr. Jim Shand

Jessica Shand, the 2015 Youth Symphony Scholarship winner is having abundant success with her flute! Jessica is a high school Junior at Discovery Canyon Campus in Colorado Springs. In January 2016, Jessica traveled to Wichita, Kansas to compete in the divisional round of the Music Teachers National Association (MTNA) performance competition. Following her success there, she will compete in the national MTNA competition in San Antonio at the beginning of April.

Jessica traveled to Montgomery Alabama at the end of January to compete against 60 of the top high school musicians in the nation in the Blount-Slawson concerto competition. Following the initial closed-round, Jessica made it to the final. She was the only woodwind competing against four violins, a viola and a cello; she managed a highly creditable 4th place. In March, Jessica takes her place as the Principal flute of the Honor Orchestra of America as part of "Music for All" festival in Indianapolis, involving high schools from all over the country. Perhaps her greatest achievement, Jessica was also selected to the 2016 roster for the National Youth Orchestra as one of the four flutists. The NYO-USA program includes a tour to Europe visiting Amsterdam, Montpellier, Copenhagen and Prague, led by conductor Valery Gergiev. Recently, Jessica won the Pikes Peak Philharmonic high school concerto competition and will play the Carmen Fantasy at the Colorado Springs concert on April 10th. Currently, Jessica plays with the Denver Young Artists Orchestra and studies under Brook Ferguson.

We are all so proud of Jessica! Stay tuned!

THANK YOU FROM THE PHIL

One of the biggest priorities of the Colorado Springs Philharmonic is to revitalize concerts for the youngest listeners. In this endeavor, we have just completed our second year of partnering with Carnegie Hall. Their Link Up project serves thousands of school children in a highly participatory, yearlong music curriculum. Its comprehensive lesson plans, combined with docent and teacher instruction, gets kids involved by teaching them to play an instrument and then play along with the orchestra in a live concert! Our goal is to inspire the next generation of concertgoers and invite them to discover the world of great music. More than 8,900 children took part this season, including 3,800 from disadvantaged schools that attended for free with the support from various foundations. Your support is so instrumental in making programs like these possible. Thank you for helping us be so successful this season and we look forward to attracting even more young listeners in the future.
